

THE MIELE ARTLINE SERIES OF BUILT-IN COOKING APPLIANCES

Design innovation to create the premium kitchen of tomorrow

In a class of its own, the Miele ArtLine series has arrived in Australia! This new range of Miele built-in cooking appliances personifies chic elegance with its sleek, totally streamlined appearance.

A striking and distinctive design statement, the Miele ArtLine series showcases Miele innovation at its minimalistic best.

These appliances blend seamlessly with flush kitchen cabinetry fronts, interpreting the concept of full appliance integration in a new and most contemporary way – with not a handle in sight!

Furthermore, the Miele ArtLine designer range introduces an arresting new colour choice: a warm and appealing Graphite Grey as well as Miele's sophisticated and alluring Obsidian Black.

This colour selection is featured in both the Premium and Prestige collections of the Miele ArtLine series, characterised by fully flush glass fronts and integrated appliance displays. Elegantly understated, the ArtLine portfolio comprises ovens, speed ovens, steam combination ovens, coffee machines and warming drawers.

To create the perfect premium streamlined kitchen, with not one handle, the Miele ArtLine range can be complemented by other Miele appliances such as select cooktops for flush-fit installation, a range of integrated refrigeration as well as the fully integrated Knock2open dishwashers.

As the multi-award winning architect, Sue Carr of the influential multidisciplinary design company, Carr Design Group, says:

“The new Miele ArtLine series gives kitchen design a truly sensuous feel denoted immediately by the colour selection and then by its seamless minimalism.

“I often select Miele cooking appliances to complement our projects, due to the brand's classic, modern design and impressive functionality. ArtLine, as it has no visible evidence of a handle, certainly adds a uniquely streamlined, contemporary dimension to the Miele selection,” Sue commented.

THE MIELE ARTLINE SERIES OF BUILT-IN COOKING APPLIANCES continues....

Exclusive Miele technology in the form of Touch2open and SoftOpen is used for opening the door on all models. Touch2Open opens the door, simply and easily, with just a light touch of a sensor, while SoftOpen ensures that the door opens smoothly before gently stopping in its end position.

In addition, the Prestige ArtLine range boasts M Touch displays which are reminiscent of a smartphone in the way they interact with users and offer a practical search function for automatic programmes.

As characterised by other Miele built-in cooking appliances, the Artline Designer range demonstrates extraordinary functionality so that the home cook can easily achieve professional results, every time.

The ArtLine designer range is yet another example of how Miele continues to set the trend in domestic appliances, in this instance, with an exceptional colour choice and sleek minimalistic design.

The innovative ArtLine series of built-in appliances is on display at Miele Experience Centres and selected Miele Authorised Retailers around Australia.
