Next Generation Gas Cooktops Miele KM 23xx Series

A revamped timeless favourite, Miele introduces the next generation KM 23xx Gas Cooktop Range which combines exceptional performance and elegant design to meet the highest of expectations.

Incredibly stylish to complement virtually any kitchen, Miele's KM 23xx Gas Cooktops feature extremely shallow stainless-steel troughs and high-quality solid metal rotary knobs to deliver a streamlined, low-profile design. Alternatively, an even sleeker finish can be achieved with the top-of-the-range KM 2357 G, especially designed for a smooth, flush installation.

Available in configurations of three or five, the KM 23xx Series offer a range of burner sizes from small simmer burners to high-performance dual wok burners. These ensure the perfect output for all applications to achieve exceptional cooking results with ease.

All KM 23xx Gas Cooktop models ensure optimum safety with GasStop, an indispensable function which automatically terminates the flow of gas should a flame be extinguished.

For added peace of mind, the flagship KM 2357 G Gas Cooktop comes equipped with GasStop&Restart that automatically initiates attempts to reignite the flame, should it be extinguished by a draught or food spillage. If reignition is unsuccessful, the KM 2357 G automatically shuts off the gas supply.

This top-of-the-range model is also equipped with electronic controls and the QuickStart function. The KM 2357 G's rotatory knobs no longer need to be pressed and held as simply turning and releasing the knob automatically ignites the burner.

Once cooking is complete, cleaning up has never been easier. Scrubbing spillages, greasy splashes and caked-on food residue are a thing of the past as Miele's KM 23xx Cooktop pot rests are conveniently dishwasher safe.

The new generation of Miele gas hob units is available from Miele Chartered Agents from a selling price of $1,799.
